FROM BIELLA TO THE BLACK MADONNA

Famed as the home of the local textiles industry, Biella in reality offers many different treasures for tourists willing to delve in and explore. To begin with, admire the vestiges of a Roman past and the many Romanesque and Renaissance monuments of Biella Piano. Here, the Cathedral, the Baptistery, and the Church of Saint Sebastian with its cloister all house the Biella Territorial Museum, easy to access, and renowned for both the wealth of its historical and artistic collections, and the exhibitions and events which the museum promotes. Then there is the medieval town of Borgo Piazza, unspoilt in its historical beauty and easy to reach by way of the funicular railway. Moving down into the valley, the banks of the Cervo torrent are dotted with monuments of industrial archaeology, including the world renowned Cittadellarte - Pistoletto Foundation, the site of many leading contemporary art exhibitions.

A short way out of town, surrounded by rich forests full of great excursion opportunities, the Oropa Sanctuary is home to a world famous statue of the Black Madonna. Situated at over 1200 metres above sea level, it is the highest Marian Sanctuary in Europe, and one of the biggest. Along with the statue of the Virgin Mary, Oropa also features an ancient basilica, royal apartments, and Treasure Museum. Accommodation is available with 700 beds, surrounded by numerous restaurants in which to savour a taste of the local culinary delights – not to be missed, the polenta “concia”.
