CLIMBING UP TO PARADISE

Mountains and Breathtaking Wonders in the Canavese District and Lanzo Valleys. Gran Paradiso, doyen of Italy's natural parks, offers an accessible something for everyone – from a satisfying walk through its mountainous heart, to activities for all tastes and preferences. Of particular scenic beauty is the walk along the dam of Lake Ceresole, whilst the breathtaking climb up to Colle del Nivolet, on foot or by car, will take you 2612 metres above sea level, meeting magnificent marmots, antelopes and steinbocks along the way. Along the road to the Lanzo Valleys, stop at Castellamonte to see traditional pottery crafts, and in particular admire Arnaldo Pomodoro's Arch, located to spectacular effect at the scenic Rotonda Antonelliana in the historic town centre, the sculptor's contribution to the 35th Ceramics Exhibition in 1995. For horse-riding enthusiasts, the Equin'ozio Equestrian Club in Bairo, with its farm tourism facilities features something for everyone. The Savoy Agliè Castle is a sight not to be missed, both for a visit to the old duke's home, and the fresh, extensive gardens that surround it. Also worth a visit is the nearby Villa Meleto, summer home to the decadent Italian fin de siècle poet Guido Gozzano. Making your way back up towards the Lanzo Valleys, stop to check out the old town centre of Cirié, easily accessible to all visitors along the well-planned itinerary through the town, featuring architectural wonders that will delight and surprise. Villa Rimmert, a historical residence built in art nouveau style, plays host to the prestigious contemporary photographic exhibitions of the Fondazione Sandretto Re Rebaudengo. Further up the valley, take in the beauty of the valleys and the Alpine mountain chains from the spectacular vantage point of the Sanctuary of Saint Ignatius.
