THE APPEAL OF THE PRESENT, the magic of the past

Shaping the very heart of the Cuneo district are history and nature, culture and geography – the complementary, though certainly not separate, aspects of a breathtakingly beautiful land, rich in culture. Majestic and awesome natural marvels are a constant travelling companion in this district, as are its occasional surprises: between the Pesio and Brobbio torrents lies Italy's first LIPU bird sanctuary, home to over 200 bird species and an example of a facility designed for everyone. The bridge between nature and history can clearly be witnessed in the ancient abbeys scattered throughout the heart of the mountains. The upper Pesio Valley is home to the treasures of a Carthusian monastery, featuring a large, sixteenth-century cloister, a fully stuccoed and frescoed abbey, and an eighteenth-century portal complete with baroque portico. The small towns that dot the province are the custodians of ancient traditions and the vestiges of the past. The giant, awe-inspiring dome of the basilica dominates the impressive sanctuary of Vicoforte, home to a stunning fifteenth-century painting of the Madonna and Child. Mondovì is another marvel to see with its wonderful historic town centre, with old porticoes framing the central Piazza Maggiore, and a Printing Museum, which houses a truly unique collection of old printing presses, whilst the gardens in Bevedere offer an impressive panorama to admire. Finally, live and breathe the past, starting from the twelfth century, in Fossano, featuring views of Acaja Castle, which can be admired on the landscape. All this, with the added delight of impeccable hospitality, excellent wines, and a mouth-watering culinary tradition.
