THE OLYMPIC VALLEYS

The Susa, Chisone, Pellice, Germanasca and Sangone valleys were the stars, alongside the competing athletes of course, of the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games of Torino 2006. Breathtaking landscape and cutting-edge facilities make the valleys a true haven for sporting enthusiasts and nature lovers, whatever the season.

The Olympic Valleys are a winter sports paradise open to all visitors.

The Susa Valley offers Alpine skiing and snowboarding runs and schools, whilst the Chisone Valley features facilities perfect for Nordic skiing disciplines; in the Pellice Valley, ice and sledge hockey have become a virtual religion.

In the summer months, the tracks that cross the stunning Stretta Valley, near Bardonecchia, represent an ideal opportunity for mountain biking and handcycling, with qualified instructors available. At the bottom of the valley, the spectacular twin lakes in Avigliana provide a wonderful setting in which to explore the local flora and bird populations that populate the protected natural parkland. In the Sangone Valley, experience the thrill of horse-riding through a landscape of awesome beauty, or spend an afternoon in total relaxation at a swimming pool or sunbathing on a green mountain meadow.

After a perfect day's sport, feast on a traditional meal of polenta, accompanied by game meats, mushrooms, or typical mountain cheeses.
